What partnership means

EduLinked works with organisations that want to improve communication, inclusion, and digital participation.

Partners may include:

- schools
- libraries
- disability services
- community organisations
- training providers

Together we create safe learning spaces where people can build confidence and practical skills.

What EduLinked provides

EduLinked provides:

- experienced facilitators
- structured workshop programs
- accessible learning materials
- practical communication tools
- support for inclusive learning environments

All programs are designed to be calm, supportive, and flexible.

What partners provide a suitable room or learning space

help sharing information about the program support staff if participants require assistance

EduLinked works closely with partners to make sure the program fits the local community.

What participants gain

Participants may gain:

- practical communication tools
- confidence speaking or expressing ideas
- strategies for self-advocacy
- new ways to participate in learning and community activities

Participants can continue using these tools after the workshop.

Partnership outcomes

Working together helps create learning environments that are:

- accessible
- respectful
- supportive
- practical

EduLinked partnerships help communities build confidence, communication skills, and digital participation.

We look forward to working with you.
