Why EduLinked asks for information

EduLinked asks for information so the correct toolkit can be sent to the right person. Some toolkits may also be part of funded programs and need basic reporting information.

Information that may be requested

- Name and email address.
- Postal address if requesting a printed pack.
- Toolkit choice and delivery choice.
- Basic learner information such as age, language, or support needs.
- Referral source where relevant.

How the information is used

- To send the toolkit.
- To contact you about your request.
- To meet funder reporting requirements where needed.
- To improve accessibility and service delivery.

What you can ask for

- You can ask what information is needed.
- You can ask for help with the form.
- You can ask EduLinked to delete postal address details after fulfilment.
- You can ask for information in another format.
